As track announcer Larry Collmus called, March X Press “walked out of the gate” to spot the field 3 lengths from the start. She trailed the field and made a 4-wide rally at the top of the stretch showing her wicked turn of foot and “from dead-last March X Press comes FLYING right on the wire to get up and win!”

Just two weeks later, March X Press once again unleashed her explosive turn of foot in deep stretch to take the Bolton Landing Stakes at Saratoga in only her 2nd career start. This win also stamped her as the first black type stakes winner for then freshman Coolmore sire Shanghai Bobby. Trailing early with “7-lengths to make up at the top of the stretch”, jockey Jose Ortiz was forced to wait with “no place to go” until the final 1/16th of a mile where the filly visibly shifted gears and fly home crossing the wire in a final time of 1:01.69- previously the stakes record by a full 2 seconds until KIMARI's run in 2019.

2 weeks rest

March X Press's visually impressive performance in the Bolton Landing generated ELITE praise on social media as the Pletcher trainee prepped for the G1 Natalma in her next out.

I do not get goosebumps watching 2-year-old races too often, but March X Press's run at Saratoga just now was something remarkable.
