ANALYSIS

SHAD NATION comes into the sale off a win last out in a tough first-level allowance at Kentucky Downs where she earned career best Beyer, Ragozin and Thoro-Graph figures. She had a bad trip two back in Saratoga over 1 1/2 miles where she traveled 31 feet further than the winner, which equates to nearly four lengths. She's never regressed on the Beyer scale this year and she looks set to take another step forward next year at four.

SHAD NATION has proven that she can handle marathon trips in her last couple of starts, including a win in a first-level allowance at Kentukcy Downs where she earned an 80 Beyer, 9 Thoro-Graph and 13 Ragozin, even while going 5 wide at the top of the lane.

She should have won her race prior, but she was given very wide trip day that saw her cover nearly 4 lengths of ground more than the winner while missing by just a length. She earned blacktype when finishing a close 3rd in the Christina Stakes at Delaware and she was precocious enough to win first out at Belmont.

THORO-GRAPH

SHAD NATION has shown steady improvement from two to three on Thoro-Graph, having earned three 9's this year.

She is still lightly raced and she can be expected to show further improvement during her 4yo season, which would make her competitive against stakes company going long on the turf.

LOOKING AHEAD

She came out of her last race with bone bruising and is being given 60 days out of training as a result. She has had 30 days off thus far (as of 11/17) and is due for another 30 days before returning to training. She looks to have found a home going 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 miles on the turf and with some improvement in her 4yo season, she can be competitive in stakes company.
